THE more closely the Governmental arguments in favour of the burning of Taipingshan before time is allowed for reconsider. Jepanese lady, ation of the conclusion arrived at the weaker do they appear. The Hon. N. G. MITCHELL INNES says the houses must be destroyed. not on account of their present condition, limit. but because when they were occupied they were full of dust and dirt and refuse. What that has to do with the question we fail to see. The new houses by which they are propo el to be replaced will also be full of dust and dirt and refuse after they have been occupied by Chinese for three months. and any measures that may be taken to enforce cleanliness could equally be applied the existing as to the proposed new houses. If every house in the colony that is found a dirty condition is to be burnt or pulled the torpedoes laid down, to avoid which each tially burnt. down no houses in Chinese occupation can be allowed to stand for many months. The cleanliness or otherwise of a bouse is matter that depends principally on the personal limits of the occupants, and pulling down one sat of walls and putting up others will not make any difference. The real point is as to the admission of light and air to the basements of the Tripingshan houses where lanes can be cut or areas made adequate for the proper lighting and ventila tion of the cellars, there is no good reason why he properly should not be allowed to stand, but where measures of that kind are impossible the demolition and reconstruction of the houses appears to be the only alternative. Mr. Mirchell-Innea assumes, too. | 6 r. 18:4. that if a Commission such as Mr. CHATER asked for were appointed the services of those who have served on the Housing of the Central arket Committee and the Permanent Committee would not be available as members.
